OVER FIVE INCHES OF RAIN FALLS HERE

Rains Spawned From Storms Hit Kentucky

By UNITED PRESS

Heavy rains spawned from southern storms deluged much of Kentucky today, snarling traffic, flooding streets in several cities and knocking out telephone service in some areas.

Louisville reported two inches of rain in a six-hour early morning period, bringing the total rainfall for the month thus far to 7.25 inches.

Paducah reported 3.11 inches yesterday, Lexington reported more than 3 inches and heavy rains hit Lexington today. Flash flooding was expected today in the Ohio River tributaries in several western counties.

Many Louisville streets were flooded this morning as leaf-clogged sewers were unable to handle the runoff. Police said more than a dozen motorists in south central Louisville were stranded early today.

Low lying suburban areas were surrounded by "lakes" and St. Matthews merchants boarded up their stores as water crept over the curbs in the business district.

A wet cable in east Central Louisville knocked out telephone service to hundreds of homes.

The Louisville Transit Co. was forced to re-route a number of buses and reported numerous delays in service.

Air traffic continued without interruption at Standiford Field, but Bowman Field, a non-commercial field, reported traffic nearly at a standstill because of low ceiling and poor visibility.

Scouts Will Hold Roundup Of Old Toys

Troop 45 will conduct an old toy roundup Tuesday night, Nov. 19. These toys will be repaired by the Scouts and distributed to the needy children. This drive is being held early this year in order to have time to repair them.

Last year Troop 45 furnished many of the toys which were distributed by the Empty Stocking Fund, a large number was donated to the Paradise Orphan Home at Bell City, Ky. and the rest were given to needy children by the Scouts and county.

Anyone having toys to donate may call 1326 or 177 or contact any member of the Troop. Also a house-to-house canvass will be made so please have your toys ready.

The annual Christmas party of Troop 45 will be held Dec. 23 at which time there will be a Court of Honor. Two more Eagle Badges will be awarded among others. These will be to Jimmie Smith and James Wilson. This will bring the total number of Eagle Scouts in Troop 45 to eight.

Grant Is Set Up In Memory Of Dr. Marcelle Wolfson Here

The Murray Branch of the American Association of University Women has announced the gift of a named "International Grant of five hundred dollars to be known as the Dr. Marcelle Wolfson Grant, one of its most loyal and faithful members.

Dr. Wolfson was born and educated in Belgium, receiving the degree of Doctor in Science from the University of Brussels. She held an International Federation of University Women's Fellowship to the University of London in 1925. After her marriage to Dr. A. M. Wolfson, she came to Murray State College, Murray, Kentucky, in 1930, where her husband became head of the Biological Sciences Department and she was a professor at intervals over the years. She was one of the charter members of the Murray Branch of AAUW in 1934 and served in various capacities, both in the local and state organizations. The major concern nearest her heart were International Relations and Fellowships.

The International Grants Program, which AAUW began in 1945, has thus far brought to this country 446 women, representing 31 countries, for study, research, and observation of new methods in a variety of professions. The AAUW International Grants, as part of the AAUW Fellowship program, rates very high with the United States governmental officials in helping to cultivate better understanding between this country and other nations. And never since the war has this need for understanding been more acute.

For 1957-58 thirty-five International Grants have been awarded to women from all five continents and some eighteen nations. Since the awards have already been made for this year, the Marcelle Wolfson Grant will be made for 1958-59. The Murray Branch has requested that this Grant be given, if possible, to someone from Belgium, Dr. Wolfson's native land.

Government Cracks Down On War Hero

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — World War I hero Alvin C. York in ill health and "broken down" went to court today to face an $85,000 federal tax claim.

The government claims that amount should have been paid on proceeds from the successful movie "Sergeant York," made in 1940. The 60-year-old sergeant says he doesn't owe this sum and certainly doesn't have the money to pay it.

York lives on a pension of $60 a month and says his only source of income is the $400-a-year pension he received after his return from war. He had a stroke in 1954 and has been confined to a wheelchair since.

A fellow Tennessean, Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver, has gone to bat for the sergeant but nothing has come of his efforts as yet. The legislator said in his opinion profit from the movie should have been subject to capital gains tax rather than income tax.

Kefauver suggested to the Internal Revenue Service that "something could be worked out along the same lines President Eisenhower got tax relief from proceeds of his book 'Crusade in Europe.'"

The sergeant won a Congressional Medal of Honor for killing 25 Germans and taking 132 prisoners, almost single-handedly, in 1918. After the war he went back to Paducah, Tenn., and except for publicity received when the movie was released has been rarely in the news.

County Residents Get $26,999

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Residents of Calloway County received $26,999 in October under Kentucky's four assistance programs — old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the needy blind and aid to the permanently and totally disabled — Economic Security Commissioner V. E. Barnes said today.

The following payments were listed: Old age assistance, $23,140; aid to dependent children, $2,458; needy blind assistance, $162; aid to the disabled, $1,239.

Total payments in all categories for the state during October were $4,006,328. Old age grants accounted for $2,269,212; dependent children, $1,388,850; needy blind, $130,020; and aid to the disabled, $218,245.

Tornadoes Kill Several In The South

JASPER, Ala. — Tornadoes swept through several communities in Alabama and Mississippi Sunday, killing at least five persons and demolishing a number of buildings.

The storm line along which the twisters were spawned moved early today into sections of north Georgia and lower Tennessee, carrying heavy thunderstorms and danger of flash flooding.

The Memphis Weather Bureau also warned of "possibilities of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in extreme northwest Texas, extreme northwest Louisiana, and Arkansas except for northeast and southeast portions" early today.

The bureau at Knoxville, Tenn., said small rivers in the east part of Tennessee could rise abruptly because of torrential rain.

Three persons were killed in a rural community four miles northeast of Jasper Sunday afternoon and five others were hospitalized. Officials said several homes and barns were demolished by the twister.

Another tornado struck in a rural settlement six miles northwest of Macon, Miss., killing an elderly couple and destroying their home.

State Rep. C. T. Crabtree told of escaping in an automobile, along with his brother, minutes before the same twister ripped into his home, about 1 1/2 miles away.

"I looked like two tornadoes," Crabtree said, "and they came together and made a big tornado. We realized it was headed our way and jumped into a car and got out on the highway."

The storm near Jasper was one of at least five reported in north Alabama and the highway patrol reported one other injury.

A. L. Hughes Grows Long Sweet Potatoe

A. L. Hughes brought in the prize sweet potatoe of the year Saturday. The bunch Porto Rican measured 24 1/2 inches long and weighed over two pounds.

Mr. Hughes, who lives at 1637 Farmer Avenue said that he has several sweet potatoes which measured 18 inches long. He dug up one which was longer than the one brought to the Ledger and Times, but it was broken digging it up.

Hughes said that he plants the potatoes in hills and that they spread out along the ground, rather than growing down. The potatoes make fine eating he said, when baked.

Cannibalism Believed In Murder Case

By DAN HANLEY JR.

United Press Staff Correspondent PLAINFIELD, Wis. — The newly butchered body of a neighbor woman and the skulls of seven other persons were found Sunday night in the house of a 51-year-old bachelor farmer.

Police said the man, Ed Gein, had confessed killing Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58, and then raised his hand like claws and snarled, "I've been killing for seven years."

He was to be arraigned today on an undefined felony charge pending further investigation of the junk and bone-strewn nine-room house.

Waushara County District Attorney Earl Killeen said, "It appears to be cannibalism."

Newspaper clippings about the disappearance or unsolved slayings of a number of Wisconsin women were found in Gein's house along with a child's clothing and the skulls of seven other persons were found Sunday night in the house of a 51-year-old bachelor farmer.

Rush Firing Of ICBM Missile

WASHINGTON — The Martin Company rushed today to complete arrangements for firing the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), second of America's 5,000-mile rockets.

The Baltimore aircraft firm set up a new division to speed "on-again-off-again" development of a Canaveral, Fla., for launching the Air Force Titan, now under development.

The company named G. T. Wiley, vice president in charge of manufacturing, to take over immediately as boss of the new division. He will supervise all Martin activities in the Patrick Air Force Base-Cape Canaveral area, including testing of the Titan, the other American ICBM being developed, the Atlas, has been test fired twice — both times successfully.

Meanwhile, Trevor Gardner, former Air Force research chief, recommended that the Eisenhower administration consider bringing Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer back into federal service to help on the testing of the Titan. The other American ICBM being developed, the Atlas, has been test fired twice — both times successfully.

Gauge Shows 5.4 Inches From 6:00 p.m. Sunday Until Today

Rapidly rising water this morning covered the entire area East of the railroad. The evacuation of families started about noon and affected about twelve families.

The Murray Rescue Squad brought their motor boat into play at 1:00 p.m. to evacuate the Robert Ferguson family. The water is almost up to the railroad tracks.

The Winslow Engineering Company started moving out materials they use in the manufacture of filters to prevent water damage to them.

Traffic was also stopped on the highway to Hazel, Murray Training School was dismissed this morning also, so that students who ride buses can be assured of getting back home today.

A 6.4 inch rain during the past two days has caused considerable damage in Murray and Calloway and a lot of inconvenience to many citizens.

The downpour started Saturday afternoon when rain had already soaked the ground for several days.

The rain fell intermittently Saturday and Sunday, then last night a veritable downpour fell. The rain, accompanied by a high wind, beat down all during the night with scarcely a lull.

This morning all approaches to Murray were flooded. Highways to Lynn Grove, Benton, Hazel, New Concord, and toward the lake were all under water.

Five and four tenths inches of rain fell in Murray and Calloway County from 6:00 p.m. on Sunday until 10:15 this morning according to Professor B. J. Timman of Murray State College.

From 3:00 a.m. Sunday until 6:00 p.m. Sunday his gauge registered one inch of rainfall. This means that from 3:00 a.m. Sunday until 10:15 this morning a total of 6.4 inches of rain fell in the county.

Professor Timman said that the barometer is still low and has not begun to rise.

The average rainfall for November is 3.6 inches and thus far in this November the total has reached 13.64 inches. This has not begun to rise.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

We are God's fellow workers. I Cor. 3:9.

God furnishes the wisdom but we must supply the hands.

GOVERNMENT EASES CREDIT

Most of us do not understand apparatus used in a controlled economy such as ours. We do not understand the reasons for raising, or cutting, interest rates, nor do we know why stocks and bonds go up and down in Wall Street. We do understand the effect of these major economic moves.

For many months now we have felt the effects of what the government calls "tight money", and it hasn't felt so good. Loans have been hard to get and sales of houses, automobiles, appliances and furniture have been reduced accordingly. We endured the slump, we will soon begin calling a "recession," because we preferred it to run-a-way inflation and still higher prices.

We are now told the danger of inflation has just about ended. Also that the cost of living has stopped climbing, hence lower interest rates are adopted to encourage, not discourage, the buying of major appliances,
the building of homes and commercial buildings.

Whether all of us understand the importance of interest rates, or not, millions of Americans, those who deal in stocks and bonds do, and gains on Wall Street
Friday total more than five billion dollars.

Even that means little to some of us except by comparison. Investors are worth five billion dollars more today than they were last Thursday, which makes us feel we are able to spend one billion more on missiles and satellites.

Of course the billion will have to be cash while the five billion gain is on paper, but since we have had a paper economy ever since the New Deal buried all the gold at Fort Knox we want all the paper we can get in the shape of securities backed by American real estate, factories or railroads.

Easing of credit will probably help the business man first and most and, goodness knows, he's the fellow who can use a little help, and cash, at this time. It will also increase real estate transfers and we have always observed that makes business good, too, as it means the employment of more carpenters, and others in the building trades.

The Eisenhower Administration may have saved us
from a dangerous recession by increasing interest rates
last year, but it didn't make friends or influence people
nor did it increase the chances to get more votes.

What is being done now does offer prospects for improved political fortunes, especially if it is true that the danger of inflation has passed. The "full dinner pail" policy has always paid off for either of the major parties, and it will go further towards curing the G.O.P. of what ails it than anything else.

IRISH UPSET OKLAHOMA — Oklahoma's Carl Dodd (22), dashes into Notre Dame territory for a 13-yard gain as Sooner fullback Morris blocks-out Nick Pietrosante (49) of the Irish. The underdog Notre Dame team toppled Oklahoma, 7-to-0, and ended the nation's longest college winning streak at 47 games. The game, which was witnessed by 62,000 fans at Norman, Oklahoma, marked the first defeat for the Sooners since November 9, 1953 and the first time in 123 games in which they have been held scoreless.

The Bowl Picture Clears Up Over Weekend

By UNITED PRESS
The smoke of Saturday's surprises, like Notre Dame's strack-busting win over Oklahoma,
cleared slowly from the college football scene today, leaving the bowl picture mighty clear but the national leadership race in chaos.

You can jot down these New Year's Day lineups:

Weekend Sports Summary

By UNITED PRESS

Saturday
NORMAN, Okla. — Notre Dame
defeated Oklahoma, 7-0, to end
the Sooners' record 47-game winning streak as well as a string of 123 consecutive games
in which they had scored.

HOUSTON, Tex. — Rice Institute upset Texas A&M, 7-6, to hand the nation's first-ranked college football team its first loss.

PAWTUCKET, R. I. — Mrs.
Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny won the $28,500 Narragansett Special for his first stakes win in a year.

MILWAUKEE — The Milwaukee Braves purchased infielder
Casey Wise from the Chicago
Cubs for an undisclosed amount of cash and three minor league players to be delivered later.

Sunday
LONDON — Cheng Feng Yung
bettered the women's world record for the high jump with a leap of five feet, 9 3/4 inches,
according to Peiping Radio.

MACAO — Arthur Pateman of Britain won the Grand Prix of Macao auto race, driving his Mercedes 300 over the 300-mile circuit in four hours, 54 minutes and 37 seconds.

Rose Bowl — Ohio State vs.
Oregon.
Orange Bowl — Oklahoma vs.
(probably) Duke.
Cotton Bowl — Probably Texas
A&M or Rice vs. Navy or Army.
Sugar Bowl — Probably Mississippi vs. Texas A&M or Rice.
And you can call Ohio State
as champion of the Big Ten for the third time in four years for its 17-13 win over Iowa, the Buckeyes coming from behind to win with a 67-yard drive
in seven plays in the fourth quarter as soph Bob White lunged
over from the five.

But who do you say is the national leader?

The Texas Aggies, who were
No. 1, were handed a 7-6 defeat
by Rice on the strength of King Hill's extra-point kick in the second period — a boot that snapped the Aggies' 14-game winning streak and gave Rice

the inside track to the Southwest even, ineligible Auburn still is Conference title and Cotton Bowl bid.
But even that upset pales
alongside Notre Dame's 7-0 conquest of No. 2 ranked Oklahoma, smashing the Sooners' record winning streak of 47 games and their record streak of 123
games without being shut out.
Oklahoma's loss does not disturb its hold on a berth in the Orange Bowl. Duke, probably qualified for the other berth with its 7-6 win over Clemson on Wray Carlton's catch of a TD pass and extra-point kick.

Oregon Assured Bowl Game
Oregon clinched the Pacific Coast Conference bowl bid by beating Southern Cal. 16-7.
Mississippi's 14-7 win over Tennessee means Ole Miss must finish ahead of any other bowl-eligible team in the Southeastern Conference, and that should mean a Sugar Bowl berth. How-

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke (5-0-1) winds up against North Carolina and North
St. (4-0-1) against South Carolina.
The Southern Skyline and Southwest conference titles will wait at least until Thanksgiving day and the Southeastern until Nov. 30.

Two other league titles will be decided next Saturday. In the Ivy League, Dartmouth (5-0-1)
and Princeton (5-1-0) will meet at Princeton for the crown.

Concord Redbirds Fall In First Defeat Of Year 51-47

The New Concord Redbirds
toppled from the ranks of the unbeaten Saturday, bowing to David Lipscomb, 51-47, in an engagement on the Mustangs' home court. It was the first defeat in five battles for the countians.
It was a close hard fought battle right down to the wire
as the Redmen stubbornly fought for victory. Trailing by three points, 9-12, at the end of the first period, Concord closed the gap to one, 20-21, at halftime.
The third quarter horn found host Lipscomb trailing the Birds
by one marker, 33-32, but the Calloway men were not able to hold on to their slim lead as

The Purple boys grasped a seven point lead that was cut to four before the end of the contest.
Ramsey was high for Nashville
with 12 points but gave up scoring honors to J. W. Willoughby with 15. New Concord was the victor in a cash between the two powers earlier in the season.

ON TO THE ROSE BOWL — Bob White, Ohio State
fullback, is halted momentarily by Hawkeye fullback John Nozera (33), and another Iowa defender on his back, on Iowa's five yard-line last Saturday. White, however, went the five yards the hard way, taking him the two Hawkeye hitchhikers, to score the winning touchdown, as Ohio defeated Iowa, 17-to-13.
The victory, before a crowd of 82,935 at Columbus,
Ohio, gave the Buckeyes the Western Conference championship and the Rose Bowl bid.

WAYNE D. OVERHOLSER'S new Western thriller

DESPERATE MAN

© 1956, 1957, Wayne D. Overholser. From the novel published by The Macmillan Co. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

CHAPTER 25
WE RODE out of the yard and down the lane to the county road and turned east. Bess and Frank came in front, I rode behind them with Lux. Kip and Gil brought up the rear. No laughter, no words, no sound except the beat of hoofs on the dirt of the road that had been turned hard the last few days by the hot sun.

I had not paid any attention to the weather for several hours, but now I was aware of the golden mutter of thunder and of clouds moving in from the west. The small bit of rain was in the air, flavored by the scent of sage, and it struck me that rain was exactly what we wanted, a regular old guileless washer that would wipe out our tracks. I didn't want to answer sheriff Ed Veatch's questions.

We crossed Buck creek, followed the road for another mile or more, then swung north across a stretch of hardpan, going on until we met the creek which angled toward the Big Red from a northeasterly direction. We were on Rafter 3 range now, and from what Frank had said earlier in the evening, I knew this was exactly where we wanted to be. Barney Lux had not opened his mouth since we'd left Anchor. He'd cracked that one time, but now he seemed composed. He wasn't sobbing or begging, he wasn't even cursing. I figured Lux was a coward because of a coward would have shot my father and Elder Smith the way he had, but now I decided he wasn't. Indifferent to any code of morals, indifferent even to taking human life, but not a coward. At least he was game enough at the finish.

We followed the creek for a quarter of a mile until we reached an ancient cottonwood with limbs bigger than a man's leg. Frank dismounted, saying, "Stay on your horse, Lux." The rest of us got down, leaving our horses some distance back of Lux's animal. The moon was overcast, and lightning was working above us. I glimpsed Lux's face, his mouth set hard, bitter and defiant.

Frank took charge and I was to do it, partly because he was a dirty job, but mostly because I didn't want anyone to think it was personal vengeance on my part. Frank tied a knot in the end of his rope and tossed it over

New In Home Design

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — Look what's new in home design. Rooms are being designed to give a new look to the old-fashioned house where once again a dining room is just that — not an alcove in the living room.

"Families got tired of everything mixed up together," he said. "Of one huge room being the center for eating, reading, watching television, sewing and entertaining."

Adverse To Caverns
"And families also found that to decorate a living area is costly," he added. "I'd rather do four rooms than one of those caverns. The decorator HAS to break a big room up. That can take an awful lot of furnishings."

Hamilton, a native of Elyria, Ohio and a World War II pilot, has been secretary of the decorator group which has 1,700 members since 1952.

He said in an interview that interior decor is on an "elegant" kick, probably because we Americans got "a bit too casual" and because the "general education level is higher than ever before."

"More of us appreciate quality," he explained.

"Semantically I suppose elegance means obedience," said the decorator. "To me, it represents a fuller life, a desire to live better on the money we spend, no matter what the income."

Sterile Furniture Out
"It marks the end of sterile furniture. The chrome era is ever. The rich wood finishes are back. Fabrics no longer are shiny and flat, but have body and feel."

With the new formality of furnishings comes the revival of the dining room and what Hamilton called "controlled entertaining."

"He said the mass cocktail party is a fading custom. Now he said the sit-down dinner with a limited number of guests is the housewife's favorite way of having company, no matter what her budget."

"Seems to me everybody's taken up cooking," said Hamilton. "And the woman who is a good cook likes to impress someone besides her family. Guests now expect to be fed... and not just canapés."

Hamilton said there are two major reasons for the return of the old-fashioned house where once again a dining room is just that — not an alcove in the living room.

"Families got tired of everything mixed up together," he said. "Of one huge room being the center for eating, reading, watching television, sewing and entertaining."

Adverse To Caverns
"And families also found that to decorate a living area is costly," he added. "I'd rather do four rooms than one of those caverns. The decorator HAS to break a big room up. That can take an awful lot of furnishings."

Hamilton, a native of Elyria, Ohio and a World War II pilot, has been secretary of the decorator group which has 1,700 members since 1952.

He said in an interview that interior decor is on an "elegant" kick, probably because we Americans got "a bit too casual" and because the "general education level is higher than ever before."

"More of us appreciate quality," he explained.

"Semantically I suppose elegance means obedience," said the decorator. "To me, it represents a fuller life, a desire to live better on the money we spend, no matter what the income."

Sterile Furniture Out
"It marks the end of sterile furniture. The chrome era is ever. The rich wood finishes are back. Fabrics no longer are shiny and flat, but have body and feel."

With the new formality of furnishings comes the revival of the dining room and what Hamilton called "controlled entertaining."

"He said the mass cocktail party is a fading custom. Now he said the sit-down dinner with a limited number of guests is the housewife's favorite way of having company, no matter what her budget."

"Seems to me everybody's taken up cooking," said Hamilton. "And the woman who is a good cook likes to impress someone besides her family. Guests now expect to be fed... and not just canapés."
